FRAGMENTS FROM NOW FOR AN UNFINISHED FUTURE An exhibition of the Friedrich Ebert Foundation 30 June to 30 August 2020

Contemporary art often pictures the world in flux: Old classification systems appear being turned upside down and less reliable. Achievements once considered definitive, for example the creation of an open, peaceful world, are threatened by populist movements and the global threat of climate change and human rights violations. In light of this, many artists consider it ever more important to take a stand.

14 scholarship-holders of the Friedrich Ebert Foundation do just that. With their photographs, video works and installations, they address social questions such as diversity and migration– topics more important than ever in times of crisis. They champion an engagement with the world that conceives of all the arts as an integral part of an overarching social discourse.

With works by Saskia Ackermann, Darío Aguirre, Yevgenia Belorusets, Cihan Cakmak, Soso Dumbadze, Öncü Hrant Gültekin, Raisan Hameed, Carsten Kalaschnikow, Ksenia Kuleshova, Dariia Kuzmych, Sebastian Mühl, Neda Saeedi, Amir Tabatabaei und Vilmos Veress.

We cordially invite you to a media talk on Tuesday, 30 June 2020, 11 a.m.
The exhibition opens at 10 a.m. The exhibition will open at 10 a. m. All current social-distancing rules apply. We advise you to wear a face mask.
